The Misciattelli Bernardini Philosophy

“At Palazzo Misciattelli we believe in providing an exclusive urban haven of unsurpassed warmth and hospitality. We know that guests seek authenticity in Italy, and we deliver with our gorgeous city of Orvieto and its rich traditions. We believe in spoiling our guests, making them feel a part of an exclusive behind the scenes world, with only 7-10 other guests on property.

We believe that true relaxation comes from a quiet but central location just a few steps from historic sites, restaurants, shops and cafes.

We delight in offering guests access to authentic culinary, cultural, and active experiences. This includes access to our 350 acres in the countryside including our private white truffle forest reserve, olive groves, and vineyards.

Each guest is an honor for us, and their comfort and happiness is our priority. When they delight in something here in Orvieto we share in that delight. Our goal is to accumulate for the guest as many moments of delight as possible, whether it is hearing the church bells in the distance, or marveling over the Orvieto cathedral, or enjoying beautiful views over the rooftops, or raving about our linens.

We know who we are and what we offer. We are not Rome or Tuscany or Venice. Instead, we offer that yearned-for possibility to experience real life in Italy in a gorgeous, bustling, authentic Italian town.

We know that guests place their trust in us, to visit Orvieto and not Siena, to stay in a boutique lodging and not a Four Seasons, and it is our pleasure to deliver on that trust.

Palazzo Misciattelli has been in our family for several generations, so our family name and honor are behind everything we do. Our family crest hangs proudly above the grand stone fireplace where we welcome our guests with an aperitivo of delicious local wines and delicacies.”
